

Q Is it a sin for one to drift through life, without definite aim, plan, or purpose?

A Yes, because this habit leads to poverty and destroys the privilege of self-determination. It also deprives one of the privilege of using his own mind as a medium of contact with Infinite Intelligence.

Q Are you the chief inspirer of sin?

A Yes! It is my business to gain control of the minds of people in every way possible.

Q Can you control the mind of a person who commits no sin?

A I cannot, because that person never permits his mind to be dominated by any form of negative thought. I cannot enter the mind of one who never sins, let alone control it.

Q What is the commonest and most destructive of all sins?

A Fear and ignorance.

Q Have you nothing else to add to the list?

A There is nothing else to be added.

Q What is faith?

A It is a state of mind wherein one recognizes and uses the power of positive thought as a medium by which one contacts and draws upon the universal store of Infinite Intelligence at will.
