

requirements of food; that useful day follows restful night; that busy summer follows the inactive winter; that the seasons come and go precisely as they did before the 1929 depression began; that, in reality, only men's minds have ceased to function normally, and this, because men have filled their minds with fear. Observation of these simple facts of everyday life may be helpful as a starting point for those who wish to supplant fear by faith.

I am not a prophet, but I can, with all due modesty, predict that every individual has the power to change his or her material or financial status by first changing the nature of his or her beliefs.

---

“Every individual has the power to change his or her material or financial status by first changing the nature of his or her beliefs.”

It was right after publication of Think and Grow Rich in 1937 that Napoleon Hill began this manuscript for Outwitting the Devil. Through his interview with the Devil, Hill discovers and reveals how the Devil may be “having his way” with you and how you can ignite your “other self” to not only conquer the Devil in your own life but to also empower your “other self” to achieve your greatest success! Throughout his work is the recurring theme of the importance of transforming your thoughts from fear to faith.

---

Do not confuse the word “belief” with the word “wish.” The two are not the same. Everyone is capable of “wishing” for