

- self-depreciation, 21, 22, 76–77, 259
- self-improvement, plan for,
  - 109–12, 125, 268–73
- service, giving, 186–90, 191
- Sevareid, Eric, 265–66
- shyness, 55–74
- smiles, big, 72–73, 174, 181
- solitude, thinking in, 295–98
- speaking in public, 71–72, 91–92,
  - 174, 228–29
- Stevens, Rïse, 243–44
- strangers, speaking to, 197–99
- stuttering, 94–95
- success
  - attitudes for, 9–24, 166–91
  - belief in, 9–24, 148–51
  - support and cooperation of
    - others, 192–211, 275, 286–87
  - thinking big, 24–28, 77, 142–44
- suicide, 58–59
- talking, 173–77, 207–9
- team efforts, 91
- telephoning, 139–40, 199
- Teller, Edward, 33
- tensions, 49
- thank yous, 174
- thinking
  - adding values, 82–89
  - belief that a solution is
    - possible, 101–3
  - big, 75–99
  - concentrating on one's assets, 77
  - creative, 100–125
  - developing ability, 38, 297–98
  - effect of appearance on, 127–32
  - focus on big objectives, 91–98
  - like a leader, 275–82
  - negative, 36, 91–98, 201–2, 203
  - about one's job, 89–91
  - power of positive, 17–19,
    - 56–58, 77–82
  - progressive, 288–95
  - in solitude, 295–98
  - subconscious mind, 298
  - times for, 298
  - traditional, 105–9
  - upgrading, 144–45
  - vocabulary, 77–82
- traditional thinking, 105–9
- training programs
  - in self-development, 21–24
  - thinking in solitude, 297–98
- Truman, Harry S, 26, 295
- value, adding values to things,
  - people, 82–89
- vocabulary of big thinkers, 77–82
- volunteers, 232–33
- walking, fast, 70–71
- Wall Street Journal*, 272–73
- Wanamaker, John, 212, 258
- Williams, W. Colvin, 241–42
- wives, 156–59, 184–86
- work
  - increasing one's capacity,
    - 109–17, 125
  - thinking job is important,
    - 132–37, 144–45
- worry, overcoming, 31, 49
- writers and writing, 246–47