

It is just as necessary in maintaining health for one to understand and properly use the emotion of sex as it is to keep the body sewer system clean. Both subjects should be taught in all public schools and all homes where there are children.

Q Wouldn't the majority of parents need instruction on the proper function and use of sex before they could intelligently teach their children?

A Yes, and so would the public schoolteachers.

Q What relative position of importance would you give to the need for accurate knowledge on the subject of sex?

A It is next to the top of the list. There is but one thing of greater importance to human beings. That is accurate thought.

---

"There is but one thing of greater importance to human beings.
That is accurate thought."

---

Q Do I understand you to say that knowledge of the true functions of sex and ability to think accurately are the two things of greatest importance to mankind?

A That is what I intended you to understand. Accurate thinking comes first because it is the solution to all man's problems, the answer to all his prayers, the source of opulence and all material possessions. Accurate thinking is aided by properly controlled and directed sex emotion because sex emotion is the same energy as that with which one thinks. It begins with those who desire self-determination sufficiently to be